

GRADUATE PROGRAMS

Randolph-Macon College offers a single graduate program in Physician Assistant Studies in which students pursue the Master of Science in Physician Assistant Studies. An informational overview of the program and the curriculum requirements are included in the Academic Catalog. Additional curricular information, admission criteria, and program policies may be accessed via the PA Student Handbook, which is accessible via the PA Program site (<https://www.rmc.edu/departments/pa/program-information/>). PA Students will be held to all standards, policies, and procedures outlined in the PA Student Handbook.

- Physician Assistant Studies (<https://catalog.rmc.edu/graduate-programs/physician-assistant/>)